Dear students of Japanese,

APPLY NOW! The McTyeire International House has a few vacancies for students of Japanese in the Spring Semester!

The McTyeire program is one of three living-learning centers on Campus. Its mission is to promote the use of foreign languages and the awareness of different cultures. Currently McTyeire houses six language halls: Spanish, Japanese, French, German, Chinese and Russian. All of McTyeire’s 90 students live in single rooms.

You can increase your fluency in Japanese simply by joining this unique community. Every language group meets for dinner Monday through Thursday and for a weekly study break.

Residency is open to upper-class students of all majors and schools. The only requirements are sufficient language ability to converse informally in Japanese and the willingness to participate in both language specific and residence hall wide activities.

For more information, check out the McTyeire handbook: http://www.vanderbilt.edu/ResEd/McTyeireHandbook or contact the program director, Anja Bandas, at anja.bandas@vanderbilt.edu
