10. Comparative Media Analysis and Practice Program (CMAP)

Each spring, the joint-Ph.D. Program in Comparative Media Analysis and Practice (CMAP) and English (as well as other departments) recruits its next cohort of graduate students. Students typically apply to join a CMAP cohort at the end of their first year at Vanderbilt. They enroll in their first CMAP seminar in the fall of their second year. The deadline for the application process is typically in March.
