Reapportionment Proposal

The College of Arts and Science currently has 15 representatives on the Faculty Senate. The 15 representatives are divided evenly among the three academic divisions, the Humanities, the Natural Sciences, and the Social Sciences. Faculty Senators have recently been reapportioned among Vanderbilt’s colleges and schools. Starting in fall 2006, A&S will have 13 representatives. The A&S Faculty Council proposes that 12 of the 13 representatives be divided equally among the three divisions and that the 13th representative rotate from division to division every term, starting (alphabetically) with the Humanities, then the Natural Sciences, and then the Social Sciences.