Submitted essays must be on a topic concerning gender, race, sexuality, and/or class, and have been written during the previous calendar year. They can be written for any University course or requirement. Essays that are pending grades, or that have been considered for publication elsewhere, will not be accepted.

Each submission must be typed and double-spaced on paper of standard size. Undergraduate entries should be 8-10 pages, graduate entries 20-25 pages. The manuscript should be submitted without the author’s name. Only one entry per student.

Please submit essays, along with this completed form, to the Women’s and Gender Studies office, 124 Buttrick Hall.

TITLE OF THE ENTRY ____________________________________________________________

AUTHOR’S NAME ____________________________________________________________

UNDERGRADUATE _______ GRADUATE ________

MAJOR/DEPARTMENT ____________________________________________________________

AUTHOR’S E-MAIL ADDRESS ____________________________________________________

PLEASE SIGN THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT: The accompanying paper has not been previously published or considered for publication. It is my own in theme, treatment, and preparation of manuscript in compliance with the regulations of the Vanderbilt Honor Code.

________________________________________

Author’s Signature